

THAT Kid, MY Student, YOUR Child (Parent Module)

This module is designed for the individual learner to view and reflect upon the content provided.

Should you wish to extend this module to group learning please see information below.

Contact your school administrator for additional resources or assistance.

Reflection Questions

- Were you aware this is what teachers go through?
- How has this impacted your understanding of confidentiality in schools?
- How can you support YOUR child to understand adults may be working to improve situations, even if your child doesn't see it happening?
- If YOUR child was THAT Child, what support would you want in the classroom/ school setting?

Example of Step to Take

Should you wish to extend your learning, within a group, we suggest:

- Create a group learning event.
Work collaboratively, seek approvals and notify appropriately as required.
- Plan for this blended learning activity.
What do you need to communicate and to whom?
What logistical considerations do you need to be aware of?
Does your event require a facilitator? Who would be best to take on this role?
- Review reflection question handout.
Add to reflection questions to meet the needs of your school.
- Watch this video as an individual.
- Come together to discuss video and how learnings may impact you and your school community.

We Want to Facilitator Our PD Day

If your learners will view a module, as a pre-learning activity to your group discussion, we recommend the facilitator:

- Views the MORE module(s) ahead of time
- Decides in advance which parts are most useful to review as a whole group, and where you can pause the presentation to encourage discussion.
- Begins by asking the participants what they most want to know about the topic, and revisit this at the end.
- Reviews Key Resources with participants, for further application and strategies to use in the classroom.
